Steam locomotive 24 017 "Steppenpferd" of the Deutsche Bundesbahn.

Update!

- With PluX22 interface and original sound functions now available for the first time
- Version with smoke deflectors of the type "Wagner"

The class 24 was primarily designed to haul passenger trains but thanks to its robust design, the locomotive later also hauled light goods trains. That's how the class 24 became a reliable multi-purpose locomotive for lighter services.
