The DB Bahnbau Group is responsible for the planning, construction and maintenance of infrastructure systems, in particular the railway infrastructure. The company has its own locomotives for transporting the trains. The yellow "Ludmilla" with the loco number 233 493 and the characteristic name "Tiger" completes the most challenging tasks. This locomotive of Soviet origin had a new 2,206 kW "Kolomna" diesel motor mounted when it was converted in 2002/2003. She has been working for the track construction group since 2014.
